Topic: “City Problems”

Life in a city is not as simple as it seems like. There are a lot of problems. Firstly, city life is very expensive. The costs of food, electricity, housing, are very high in the city. Secondly, traffic congestion. Due to the high number of cars in the city, traffic tends to be an issue especially in peak hours when people are going to work and from work. Thirdly, there is a high level of pollution in the city. Due to industrialization and environmental pollution caused by poor waste disposal and waste discharged from factories, the atmosphere of city is harmful for living. In short, although city life has a myriad of advantages, it also has disadvantages, so people have to exert themselves if they want to live in the city.
